Bearcats Go to Springfield for M. I. A. A. Meet

Cape Girardeau is Defending Champion and Expected to Retain Title

SPRINGFIELD HOPEFUL

Host College is Stronger Than Last Year and Has Fighting Chance--Official Records Hazard

Coach Stalcup and some twenty men left yesterday morning to attend the conference track and field meet held this year at Springfield. Among those that left were three tennis players and two golfers, who will enter the conference play in those two sports. The remainder of the squad left will enter the different events in track and field meet.

Cape Girardeau is the defending champion and is doped to win again this year. They have what is considered the strongest team in the conference and have not lost a meet this season. Last year they piled up the points to win easily with some 15 points more than their nearest competitor.

However, this year competition will be a little stronger and Springfield, the host, will be battling for the first place honors. Rolla will make a determined bid to end up some place beside the bottom of the list where they have stood in every sport since entering the conference a year ago.

Conference records are in danger in several events. Neil will attempt to lower his own record in the 100-yard dash, and will also be looking for new records in the 220-yard dash and the broad-jump. McClane of Cape Girardeau will be out after the records in the high and low hurdles. While Goddard of Cape and Lange of the Miners will battle it out for first place and very likely a record in the high jump. Another record that is in doubt is in the pole vault with Marsden of Warrensburg the probable victor. White of Cape Girardeau had run near record time in the half mile and if the competition is strong he may set a new record in this event.

Maryville has a fair chance of finishing second in the meet this year, but little or no chance of winning it.

Make Nominations For Student Senate

Nominations for the Senate were made in the spring for the first time under the new amendment recently passed by vote of the Student Government Association.

Chandis Wilson of King City has the honor of being the first nominee under the new law. He was nominated by the Junior class for the long term as was James Stephenson, Maryville. Lloyd Dowden, Maryville, and Mary Elizabeth Adams, Mount Moriah, were nominated for the two term office; and Harold Wilson, Skidmore, Bill Somerville, Maryville, Elizabeth Wright, Fairfax, and Walter Rulon, Shanadoah, Iowa, were nominated for the short term.

The Sophomore class nominated Lucy Mae Benson, St. Louis, Virgil Woodside, Independence, and Mary Peck, Fairfax, for the long term. Jerry Rowen, Maryville, debater, will fight it out with Earl Holt for the two term office, while there will be a general scramble between Marvin Steinmetz, Plattsburg, Eldon Thompson, Clarinda, Iowa, Clara Ellen Wolfe, Grant City, and Edwin Tyson, Skidmore, for the short term.

With the nomination of Eugene Hill, Calhoun, Bill Maloy, Redding, Iowa, and Paul Persons, Maryville, for the long term; Eleanor Taylor, Colorado Springs, Colo. and Jack Wright, Gower, for the two term; and Bill McMullin, St. Joseph, and Delores Messner, Albany, for the short term, the freshman class came into their own in the student government.

Senior Play to Be Much Ado About Nothing

"Much Ado About Nothing" is the title of the play by the English dramatist, William Shakespeare, which the senior class of the College will present in the auditorium the last week in May.

The play is one of the "thrillers", old, but none better has been written before or since. Shakespeare did not choose the title without reason, and it is a comedy of wit and humor from beginning to end.

"Much Ado About Nothing" begins in the manner we like for plays to begin, and it ends to the satisfaction of everyone. Of course, it is based on a love story, one of those where characters fall in love with the slightest trouble, a play of pleasant intrigue.

Speaking of our modern lasses, they have nothing on the women of Shakespeare's day. Beatrice wields a wicked tongue and Benedick is quite her equal.

There is aplenty of villainy, too. Don Juan is full of it; no less, Borachio. Hero and Claudio are the peaceful happy lovers until—but wait, that's what all the Ado is about and it takes Dogberry to settle the whole affair. The play is just another proof that the course of true love never did run smooth.

Dr. Joseph P. Kelly, chairman of the College department of speech, is directing the play.

The cast of main characters are: Benedicto, Charles Waterman; Claudio, Leland Thornhill; Don Pedro, Luke Palumbo; Leonato, Harry Lyle; Borachio, Justin King; Antonio, Gaylord Morrison; Don Jaun, Charles Curry; Dogberry, Warren Crow; Conrad, J. W. Shannon; Balthasar, Lorace Catterson; Beatrice, Lucile Lindberg; Hero, Edra Smith; Margaret, Beatrice Sherman.

Heads Varsity Villagers

Frances Stuart of Maryville was elected to the office of president of the Varsity Villagers for 1936-37 in a special election of the group held following the weekly assembly Wednesday morning. The Varsity Villagers is an organization of women living off the campus.

Doris Hiles of Burlington Junction was elected vice-president of the group in the election, and Gara Williams of Maryville was elected secretary-treasurer.

Mother's Day Next Friday is Popular Event

Plans are Complete for Entertainment of Visiting Mothers May 15

LUNCHEON AT NOON

Afternoon Tea at Residence Hall--Will Attend Presentation "Pirates of Penzance"

Mother's Day comes but once a year, and what day in the whole year is more fitted to show our mothers our appreciation for all they have done for us and for all they are doing, day after day. This day should stand as high in the list of our holidays as even Christmas. On this day, the College is giving us an opportunity to honor our mothers, to let them see where we spend a great part of our time, in the pursuit of knowledge, to let them meet our College friends and to let our friends meet our mothers. The College, in order properly to honor and entertain the mothers of all the students, will on Friday, May 15, be host to their mothers. Each student should invite his mother to the College for the day and the short course students should also bring their mothers on that day.

Tickets will be put on sale on the second floor of the administration building Monday, May 11, for the luncheon to be served at noon at Residence Hall. As there are reservations for only 150 at Residence Hall, all students are urged to purchase tickets as early as possible and if there is a sufficient number who cannot get reservations the luncheon will be held at one of the uptown churches with room for everyone. Dr. O. Myking Mehus, who is in charge of the activities and program of the day, said this week.

All the mothers are to register from 9:00 until 11:00 a. m. in Recreation Hall. Miss Lucile Lindberg will have charge of the registration and guides will be provided for all mothers who wish to visit classes or to inspect the campus and buildings. During the morning the Home Economics department, the art department, and the Greenhouse will each have a special exhibit for the mothers. At 11:00 o'clock there will be an assembly in charge of Miss Lois Neff, chairman of the assembly committee.

The program for the assembly is as follows: Scripture reading and Prayer, Dr. Harry G. Dildine of the social science department.

Address of welcome on behalf of the faculty, Dr. I. C. Miller, Dean of the faculty.

Address of welcome on behalf of the students, Louise Bauer.

Musical Reading, "Patterns" by Amy Lowell, Miss Beulah Frederichs. Accompanied by Miss Ilene Boyd.

Short Selections from "Pirates of Penzance".

At 12:30 the Mothers Day Luncheon will be held at Residence Hall and Beatrice Lemon will be in charge of the program. In the afternoon there will be a tea given at Residence Hall with the Varsity Villagers as hostesses to the mothers. The mothers will have dinner with their own sons and daughters at the various homes and boarding houses of the students. The mothers are to be guests that evening of their sons and daughters at the comic opera, "Pirates of Penzance" to be given in the auditorium.

It is hoped that every student in College, whether short course or spring quarter student, will bring his mother here for this Mothers Day and that every mother will spend a very enjoyable day here as our guests at this annual function.

Major Event to Be "Pirates of Penzance"

The biggest entertainment of the College this year, promised for this spring, is shortly to take place. The "Pirates of Penzance", Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera, will be presented by music students, May 14 and 15.

For several weeks the cast and choruses under the direction of Mr. LaVerne E. Irvine have been working toward a successful presentation. Rehearsals are being held every day for both vocal and instrumental musicians.

Mynatt Briedenthal will have the baritone role of Richard, the King of the pirates. The part of his lieutenant, Samuel will be sung by Turner Tyson, baritone. The character, Frederic, a young pirate apprentice and hero of the piece, will be portrayed by Mr. LaRue Poole, tenor. Mr. Poole, who will have only out-of-College role will come here from Kansas City for the performance.

Virgil Woodside, tenor, carries the part of Major General Stanley, an officer in the British army. Mabel, his youngest daughter, sung by Aleta Burnham, soprano, is the first English girl Frederic has known, but she is sufficient to tangle his affairs. Martha Mae Holmes, contralto, sings the role of Ruth, piratical maid-of-all-work who had hoped to marry the young pirate.

William Somerville, baritone, has the part of Edward, the Sergeant of Police. Major General Stanley's three daughters are portrayed by Louise Gutting as Kate, Helen Shipman as Edith and Doris Hiles in the part of Isabel.

The light opera opens in a natural rocky cavern on the coast of Cornwall in England. This is the home of the pirates. In the beginning Frederic, who is a favorite of all the pirates, announces that he is going to leave them. A great deal of consternation is called by his announcement. From this point on the opera moves swiftly from one high point to another. His experience with the English girls, his falling in love with one of them, his discoveries about her father and many other exciting events carry the story to its final climax. The complicated plot is cleverly worked out and there is a great variety of songs, lively, amusing and beautiful.

The famous Pirate Chorus appropriately and colorfully costumed will consist of Otha Jennings, Clarence Davis, Robert Lawrence, Alphonse Graves, Gene Hill, Morris Yadon, Homer Dickerson, William Bills, Howard Millikan, Wal-

THE COLLEGE LIBRARY AND MAGAZINES

The College Library should be complimented upon the fact that it subscribes for a total of 135 magazines and periodicals for the use of students attending classes at this institution. Speaking for the entire student body, this newspaper expresses our appreciation to those College officials who make possible such a large and varied collection of interesting and educational volumes.

Practically every department in the institution is represented in some manner by issues of the magazines within the shelves of the library. The social science department, the business administration department, the foreign language departments, the English department, the agriculture department, the Music department, the Science departments, in fact most every department has periodicals of interest to students who are studying in that particular department. Students who are not studying in a particular department oftentimes become interested in some phase of work which may deal in another department; if so, they proceed to employ the magazines which deal with topics characteristic of the other department. Perhaps they do this for amusement, or perhaps they do this expecting to learn more of the other department's work. Whatever the reason is, students often enjoy delving into the works of a field other than the one in which they may be majoring.

Many students are, however, at a disadvantage in securing from the Library magazines which deal in subjects which may or may not pertain to a certain College course. At least eight magazines for which the College Library subscribes do not come to, or at least do not remain in, Library to any degree of time, and consequently, the main group of students do not have access to these periodicals.

One department in the College comes in possession of at least eight of the most widely read magazines in the United States, thus leaving the people in other departments a more or less limited number to read from in the Library. Many people, we believe, do not know that the College is a subscriber to such popular magazines as the "Delineator", the "Forecast", "Good Housekeeping", "Harper's Bazaar", "Ladies Home Journal," "Pictorial Review," "Vogue," and the "Woman's Home Companion." The reason they do not know this fact is that these magazines are not left in the Library for the majority of students to read.

In some ways it might seem a good plan for each department to take the periodicals dealing with its subject to its special rooms. But what would be the use of the Library as far as magazine material is concerned if these periodicals were safely locked up in some department room when a student wished to read them in the evening? We favor leaving the magazines in the library for the use of all students rather than for one department.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Interest in student activities seems to have been on the wane the past year. Clubs are not receiving the support that they should receive. There seems to be a general lack of interest in all outside activities. It is a major question as to whether this is a good sign or not; more studying may be done than ever before; better grades may have been made; but there is a possibility that the time of the students is being wasted on other less profitable activities.

Those who feel that the extra-curricular activities should play an extremely important part about a College cannot but view with alarm the present decline that is being witnessed in and about the College. Integral organizations, once lost are not regained readily. If we are to maintain the number and quality of our organizations we must make a conscientious effort to support them. In the past our College has been noted for its outside activities. We should not allow such a reputation to die.

A SUBSTITUTION FOR THE MAY FETE

Each year for the past several years, the College has prided itself, and justly so, in the presentation of the annual May festival, looked forward to in the spring as the "May Fete." This year, circumstances have risen which will make it impossible to stage the entertainment and this will be much to the disappointment of College students and townspeople for miles around.

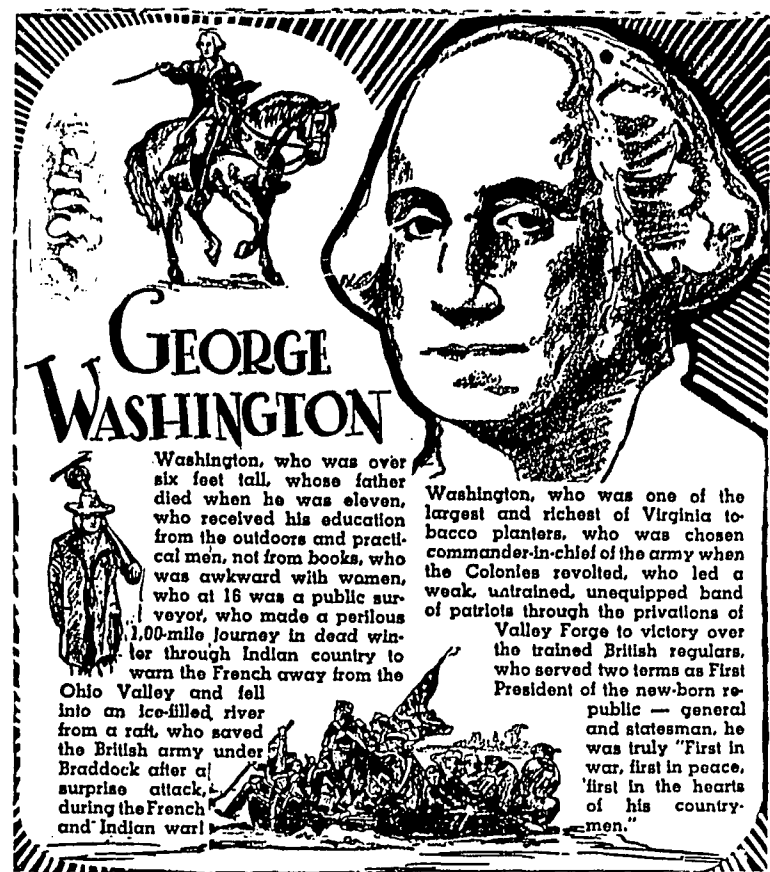

The departments of physical education and music have worked together in this annual presentation and the efforts of the two have been most satisfactory. The two departments will again work in conjunction with each other this year in the presentation of one of the most popular Gilbert-Sullivan two-act operas, "The Pirates of Penzance." This presentation will be given the evening of May 15—next Friday. Advance information reveals entertainment of a high degree will be presented, and to that, everyone is looking forward.

WHAT, A LARGER NAVY?

It is not the ordinary policy of this newspaper to present through these columns any comment on problems facing the national governmental departments in Washington, D. C., but a recent act which passed the House of Representatives and is now before the United States Senate merits this recognition here. A bill appropriating $531,000,000 the largest peace time appropriation ever made for the navy—has been introduced and has passed satisfactorily through one house and may pass through the second.

The sum of $31,000,000 would be it seems to us, quite "staggering" to be spending for the construction of war ships which we probably could do as well or better without at the present time. How much better use that sum could be put to if it were appropriated toward the cause of poor people who are suffering and on relief.

At $30 per month, one and one-half million families could survive for one whole year upon the sum which governmental officials now plan to use for the construction of more ships and for the enlistment of more men to care for these ships. Those who make such enormous appropriations surely and undoubtedly know more than we do about what they are doing, but as much as we know of the situation, it would be quite a foolish act to make such an appropriation with conditions internally as they are today.

Washington, who was over six feet tall, whose father died when he was eleven, who received his education from the outdoors and practical men, not from books, who was awkward with women, who at 16 was a public surveyor, who made a perilous 1,000-mile journey in dead winter through Indian country to warn the French away from the Ohio Valley and fell into an ice-filled river from a raft, who saved the British army under Braddock after a surprise attack during the French and Indian war.

Washington, who was one of the largest and richest of Virginia tobacco planters, who was chosen commander-in-chief of the army when the Colonies revolted, who led a weak, untrained, unequipped band of patriots through the privations of Valley Forge to victory over the trained British regulars, who served two terms as First President of the new-born republic — general and statesman, he was truly "First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Mr. William Holdridge, formerly a member of the Conservatory of Music faculty here, who is now a voice instructor in Northeast Junior high school of Kansas City, demonstrated the training of boy sopranos and changing voices of junior high school boys.

The fraternity visited a class of eurhythmics in second grades, and a class of sight reading in the third grade at E. C. White school. In the afternoon the Westport high school class of instrumentation gave a musical demonstration.

Alpha Epsilon Psi were guests of the Kansas City Music Department at the Annual Public School Music Festival given in the Municipal Auditorium. Approximately 6,000 children took part in this program, most of which was directed by Mabelle Glenn, Supervisor of Music in Kansas City.

The Stroller

The Stroller covers the earth! He saw Frances Feurt sitting among the boulders in Krug Park last Sunday; he saw Doris Kendall in a gypsy covered wagon doing he knows not what; little William Somerville in Kansas City last week all by his lonesome; and Lorace Catterson asking every other girl in Northwest Missouri whether or not she did or didn't belong to the Chi Delta Mu sorority.

It was at the Chi Delta Mu dance Friday evening that Lorace Catterson appeared with the wrong girl, at least, an unexpected girl. Miss Yates, do you belong to the sorority?

It has been rumored that the private limousine to Kansas City was a little crowded. In fact there was not even enough room to take all the quartet.

The Stroller is wondering how Roy Johnson manages to see Florence McIntosh so often when he works for a cleaning company in the day time and drives a taxi at night. Maybe she rides in the taxi.

Ludmila Vavra and Margaret Turney seemed to be doing quite well for themselves Sunday night at the Missouri Theatre, St. Joe. Perchance, Vavra still thinks the town men are the best?

At last, Turner Tyson has gained back his technique!

Have you noticed the worried look on Henry Robinson's face lately? Explanation: It seems that when Henry and his beloved decide to spend a quiet evening at the house, someone insist on spying on the couple. Aren't you ashamed of yourselves? In fact that is almost as bad as hollering across the yard at the O'Grady boys every evening.

I guess Cora Dean Taylor must have felt very much elated, or did she(?), when Sunday evening Harold Sawford from Excelsior Springs walked in on her. Proving my point, Cora, that love is a grand instructor.

Clark Rhinehart, warning, better keep the girl friend away from the "Pirates of Penance." She might get kidnapped. They are a desperate lot.

Charles Pfander went out for air the other day, it seems. Now he is going out for small game. What do you have against the pigeons, Charles?

The Stroller is trying to find out why Charles Fender has taken such a sudden disliking to pigeons. He has been around swearing under his breath for vengeance against anything that resembles the bird family.

The Stroller gives the weekly laurel to Miss Campbell for putting the pressure on Holt. Does he keep quiet now?

It seems that the College bus just can't pass that speedy roadster of C. F. Grey's. If it had, the "Grey's" might have gotten their picture in the paper.

President Reviews Trip

At a short assembly Wednesday morning President Lamkin gave a brief review of his recent trip to the meeting of the Council of Education at Washington, D.C. He said that he and Mrs. Lamkin had gone down into Kentucky and viewed the scene of the Kentucky derby and had visited several places in Virginia, one of the most interesting of which was the home of Thomas Jefferson. He commented very favorably on the work which was done at the conference. It is this group which is largely responsible for the tests which are being taken by freshmen and sophomores all over the land.

The Wyatt Park Christian church of St. Joseph was host last Sunday night to members of the Y.M.C.A. Gospel Team. The program at St. Joseph was the only one given by the College men on last Sunday's trip. Julian Stuart is pastor of the Wyatt Christian church.
